Re: Artful Conference and Event Specialists (ACES)

1. I have known ACES since 2005 when I was co-opted to represent the KZN Dept of Education on the Local Organising Committee of the XXIII World Congress for Suicide Prevention.
2. In 2006 I was invited to serve on the Local Organising Committee of the 34th Biannual Congress of the International Association Of Schools of Social Work (IASSW). One of the first items on the Agenda was to make a decision with regard to the appointment of an events coordinator to act as technical support for the organising of the congress. The name of ACES was mentioned as possible service providers and without doubt, I supported the appointment of ACES.
3. ACES impressed as an organisation that is committed to the task on the table. They proved to be reliable, open and honest in the way in which they offered support and guidance to the local organising committee. They approached problems as challenges and are able to guide members in an unbiased and objective way. The task on the table was always more important than their own benefits. In my opinion, the success of both congresses can directly be related to the exceptional knowledge, communication and organisational skills of the ACES team with regard to congress logistics and processes.
4. It is a privilege to recommend ACES as a service provider with integrity.
